THE KRISHNA KEY

by Ashwin Sanghi, ₹250

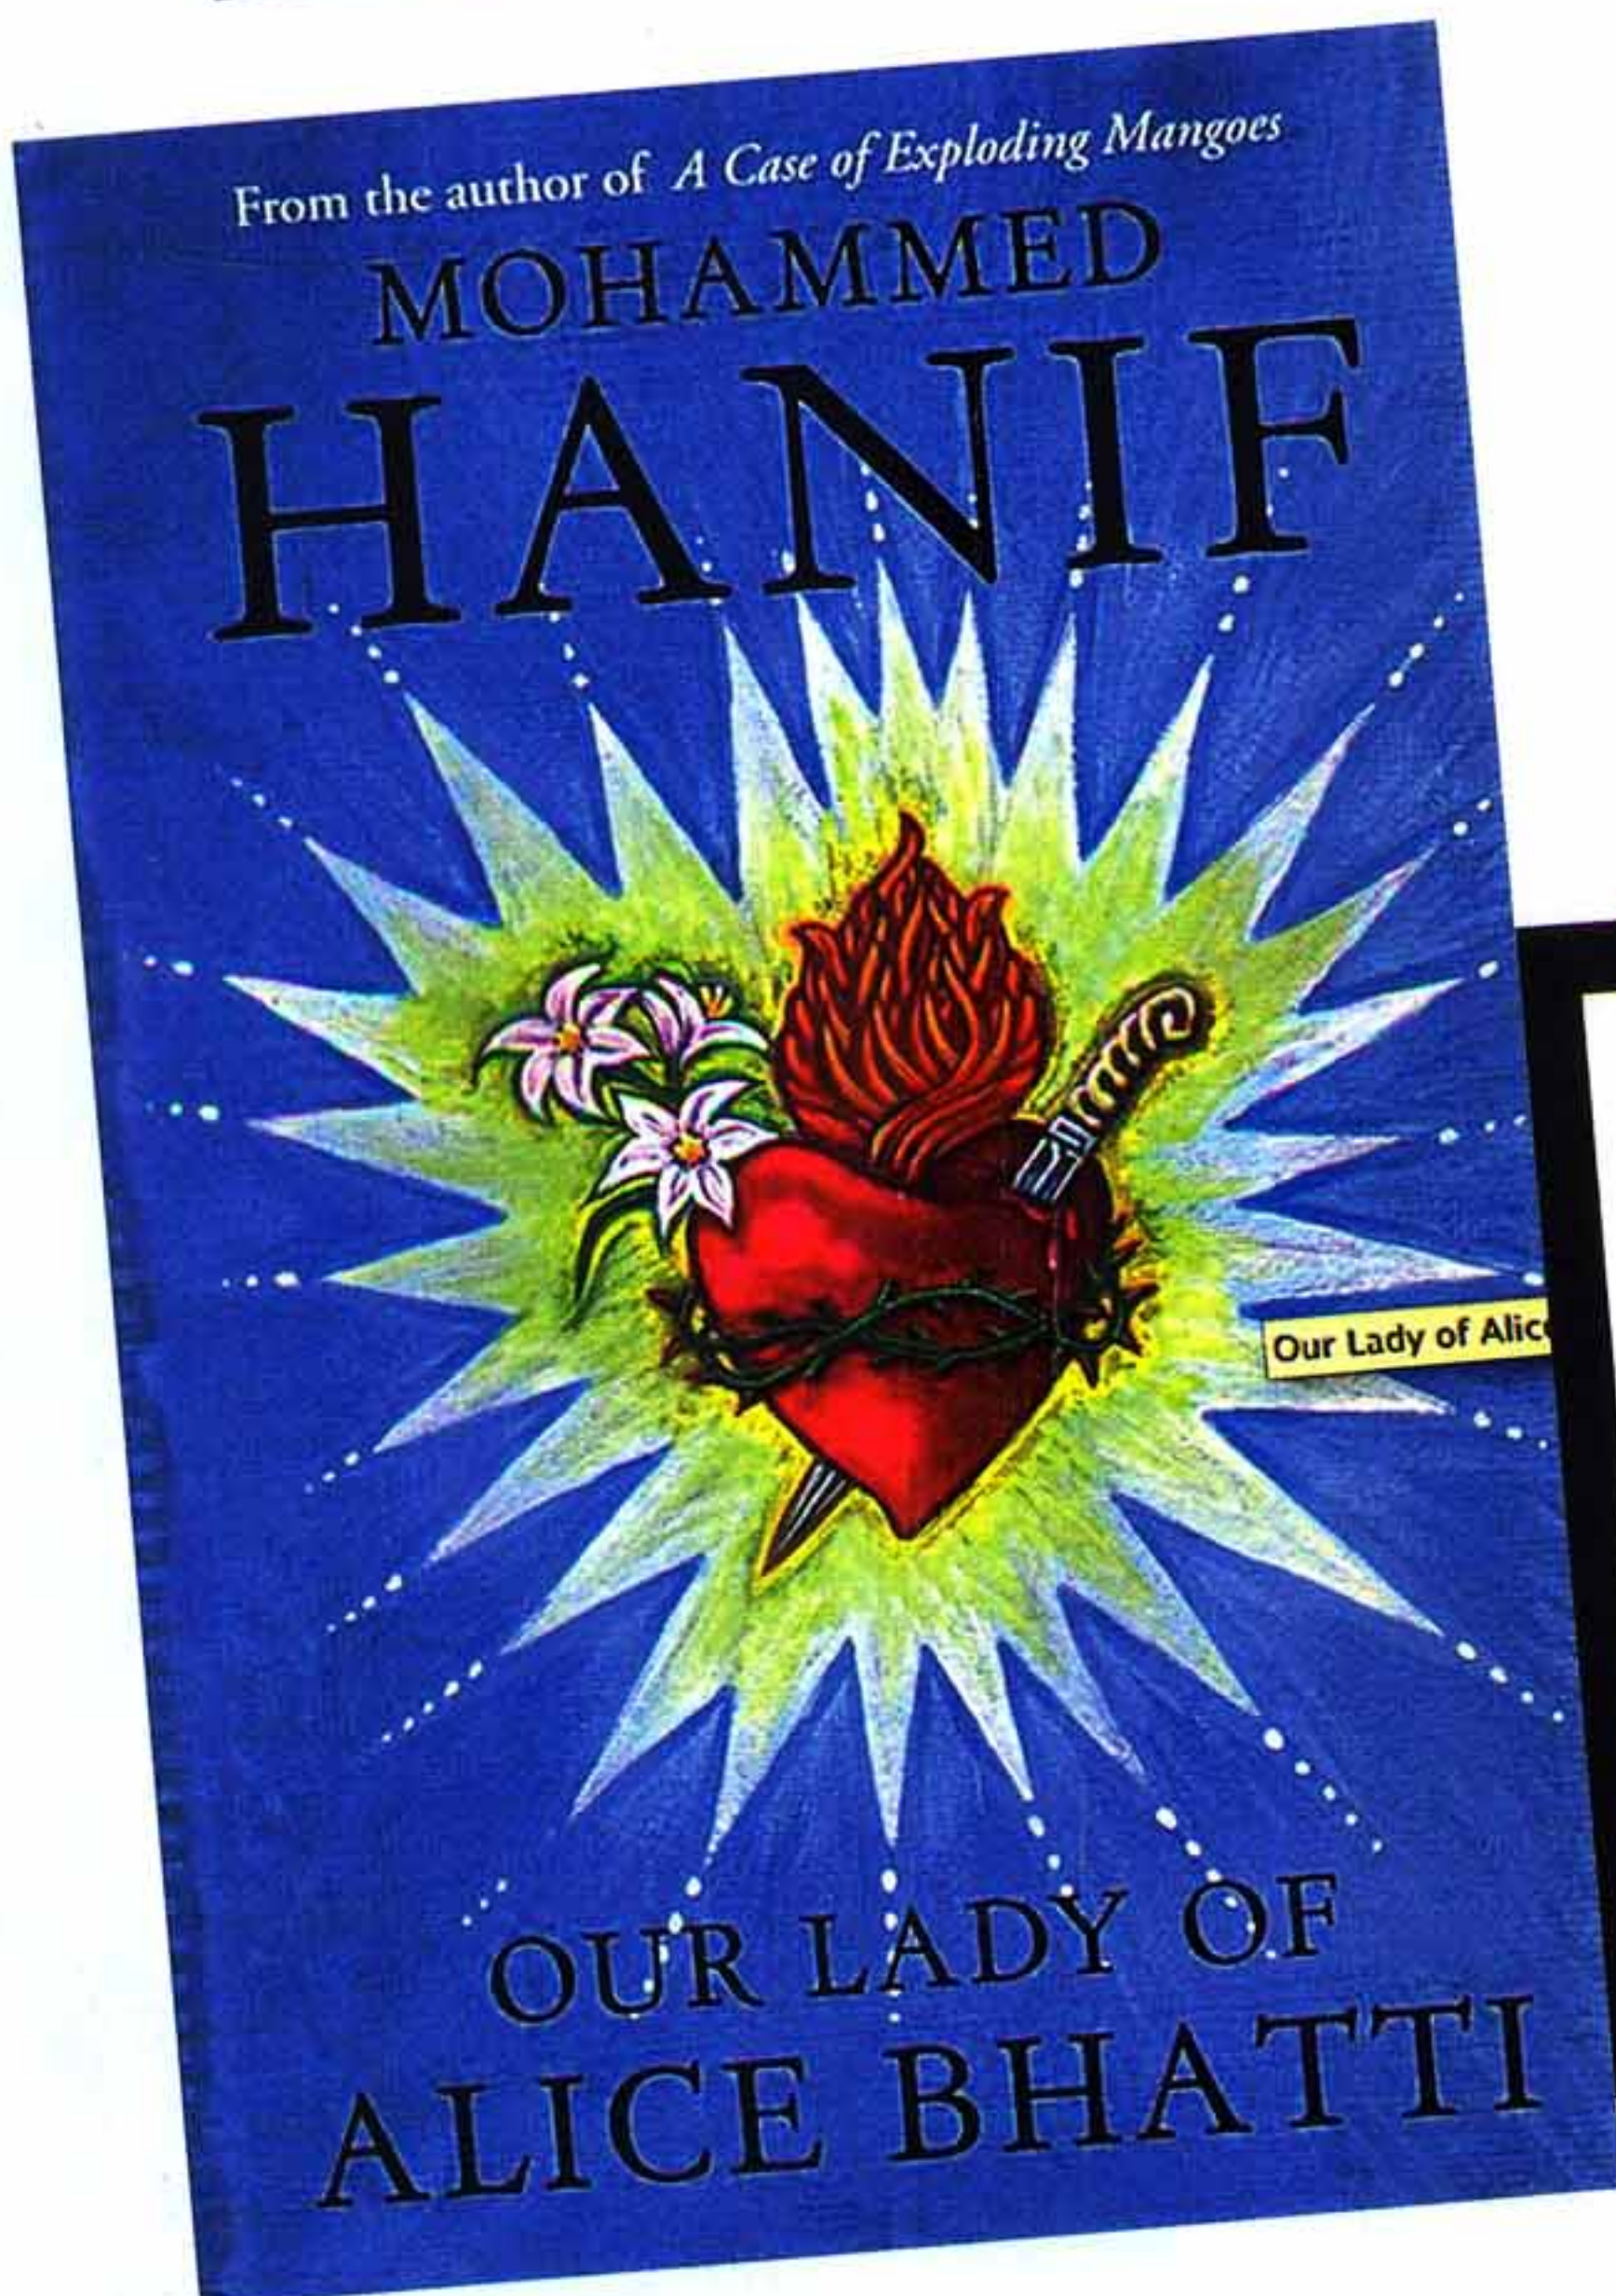

In modern times, a poor little rich boy grows up believing that he is the final avatar of Krishna who will be needed in the eventual Dark Age—the Kaliyug. Only, he is a serial killer. In this heart-stopping tale, a murderer executes his gruesome and brilliantly thought-out schemes in the name of God.

BRING UP THE BODIES

by Hilary Mantel, ₹399

Sequel to the Man Booker-winning Wolf Hall, this one sees a blacksmith's son, Thomas Cromwell in 1535, as the Chief Minister to Henry VIII. His fortunes have risen with those of Anne Boleyn, Henry's second wife, for whose sake Henry has broken with Rome and created his own church.

OUR LADY OF ALICE BHATTI

by Mohamed Hanif, ₹499

The book set in modern-day Karachi, Pakistan, takes a satirical look at the volatile nature of society in Pakistan through the story of a gutsy nurse called Alice Bhatti.
